

Faquirs McRea.—In noticing the fact that it was this devoted and generous youth who gave his place of safety to Judge Rochester of New-York on that awful night when the Pluasi was wrecked, the Norfolk Beacon pays the following tribute to his memory:—

"It was just such conduct as might have been anticipated from the manly spirit of McRea. He first assisted Judge Cameron, before he fell in with Judge Rochester. Judge Cameron did not succeed in reaching the wreck and was lost. Judge R. was taken up by the boat, and was lost in the surf as he attempted to land. Both were denied the power of recording their gratitude to the heroic self-denial and magnanimity of McRea. When it is recollected that McRea was in the prime of life, not yet thirty, blessed with health and indulging the prospect of a long and happy life, how ready might he have been excused, if, hurried by a terrific explosion from his bed into the sea, at dead of night, amid the shrieks of women and children and groans of the wounded, he had thought of his own safety, and left others to whom he was only bound by the ties of humanity, to shift for themselves? But this young man was true to the promptings of the most chivalric spirit, and spent his own life in the attempt to rescue others. It is almost certain, that had McRea clung to the scum, which he relinquished to Judge Rochester, he would have been rescued precisely as the Judge was; and as he was young and vigorous, he might have escaped with others when the Judge was drowned on the beach. It was a custom of Rome when a citizen saved the life of another, to present him with a civic wreath; but how much brighter and enduring ought that to be which is destined for the brow of a youth such as Mc. who, under circumstances of extreme peril, saved, for a time, the lives of two eminent citizens at the sacrifice of his own! His friends and relatives may well deplore his loss to reflect that the object of their regard, estimable as he was in life, covered himself in the hour of death with imperishable honor."

WARMEST WEATHER IN 30 YEARS.—The Portland Mirror says:—We learn that on the 9th inst. the Thermometer kept by Professor Cleveland in Brunswick, and which has had the same position for 30 years past, stood, at the hour of 11 A. M. at 93°—half a degree higher than at any other time for the whole 30 years. On Wednesday the 11th inst.—the same Thermometer was up to 93°.

The Canton Democrat States, that the Honorable Wilson Shannon was drawn in a Barouche on the 4th of July. What an aristocrat. Could he not walk?—Query, as to his being an honorable, what office did he ever hold, except that of Prosecuting Attorney?—Cincinnati Ex.

MICHIGAN, instead of buying her bread stuffs, have begun to export flour; a single house in Detroit has within a short time shipped for New York one thousand barrels of flour, the product of Michigan, and much more, it is confidently stated, will be shipped before the close of navigation.—Ohio City Argus.

FARMER VANCE.—This gentleman is daily becoming more popular with the people. His strict forward course, as Governor of Ohio, has secured to him the permanent friendship of all his old friends, and has even elicited praise from some of the opposition. He has proved to the world, since he has been the Chief Magistrate of this great and flourishing community, that he is just such a man as the people desire to have their interest entrusted to. He is one of those hard-fisted common sense farmers, that knows well the wants of the community, and has independence enough to insist upon, and carry out, such measures as is calculated to do service to the whole community. He is the candidate of the Democratic Whig party, and stands upon the broad and firm platform, of the SUPREMACY OF THE LAWS AND EQUAL RIGHTS TO ALL MEN, and he will be sustained.—Dover Telegraph.

SINGULAR CASE OF SOMNAMBULISM.—At a late hour a few nights back, Samuel Loder, a watchman attached to Captain Knapp's district, heard the breaking of a pane of glass in a house in Rivington street, and the next moment heard two or three more panes of glass being broken in the same house. Supposing some persons were in the act of committing a burglary, Mr. Loder hastened to the house and beheld a man hanging by his hands from the window stool of the room of a three story house, and kicking furiously at the window beneath him, which was the cause of the glass being broken. Mr. Loder called loudly to the man, but received no answer, and it immediately occurred to him that he was a somnambulist. He therefore knocked at the door and a woman shortly came to one of the windows, to whom Mr. Loder spoke in a low voice and told her to open the door without loss of time, which she did accordingly. Mr. Loder then obtained the assistance of two men and went up stairs softly into the room and laid hold of the man and pulled him in, and found that he was fast asleep. After a considerable time spent in rubbing him and pulling his limbs, they succeeded in awakening him; he was of course, totally unaware of what had occurred. He however recollected that he had been dreaming, and imagined himself walking through the back door into the yard. Had he fallen from the place where he was hanging he must in all human probability have been instantly killed, as independent of the height it was from the ground there was an iron picket fence close to the lower window of the house, on which he must inevitably have struck in his fall.—N. Y. Jour. of Com.

ASSAULT ON THE SOUTH WHARF.—The Natchitoches Herald, hitherto a Van Buren paper, has hoisted the Whig flag, and says "our penitence for past errors is complete; let the publicity which we give it, be the test of our sincerity." This may be taken as a most decided indication as to the whereabouts of the "foot-steps" of the people in that region. Having weighed the follower in their balance, and found him wanting, they are determined he shall "make tracks" at the end of his term.—Balt Pat.

CORONATION BLUNDER.—The following laughable occurrence happened at a small town in Worcestershire. A printer having been applied to, to print a notice for closing the shops, &c., for the day of the Coronation, by some mistake, purposely or accidentally made, the letter C was put in the place of S, which made it read as follows:—"Notice is hereby given that as the trades-people have agreed not to open their shops on the coronation day." This, of course, was an unlucky announcement for many when the roast beef and plum-pudding came in view.—Warwick Advertiser.

Dr. Duncan speaks of "our present National Debt." Oh! Then we have a National Debt, notwithstanding all the declamations of the Locofoco press. A National Debt, and fifteen millions of irredeemable Treasury Notes, are the grand results of the "experiment" to "better the currency."—Ohio State Jour.

IT TAKES THE YANKEES.—Since the passage of the law in Boston prohibiting all persons from selling ardent spirits, except druggists, no less than seventeen hundred and eighty new apothecary shops have been opened in different parts of the city. A man has nothing to do but to buy a bushel of epsom salts, a jar of magnesia, and a box of Lee's pills, and he can keep and retail as much of the "O be joyful" as he pleases. God save the commonwealth of Massachusetts.—N. O. Pic.

CENSUS OF WISCONSIN.—The returns lately made of the census of this territory show the following: East of the Mississippi river, there are returns from thirteen counties: population 18,140. West of the Mississippi river, there are returns from sixteen counties: population, 22,850. Total 41,008.

APPROPRIATIONS.—Thirty-eight and a half millions of dollars was appropriated by the late Van Buren Congress for the support of our "light and simple government."

Commodore Porter, our diplomatic agent at the Court of the Grand Turk, is now in the United States.

About one half of an entire square, in the town of Harrisburg, Pa. was destroyed by fire on the 20th inst.

HOTEL TO LET.

TO RENT immediate possession given, the new and commodious MIAMI HOTEL, situated in the lower ward of Maumee City. This house is at the corner of Detroit street and Michigan avenue, a few rods only from the main steamboat landing, and close by the Ferry, at which the travel between Michigan and the eastern states crosses the Maumee river.

This Hotel is of three stories, with basement rooms, fronting eighty feet on Detroit street, and ninety feet on the avenue, and its position on the bank of the river, gives it a conspicuous and pleasant appearance. Several steamboats from Buffalo, and other lake ports, every day arrive at and depart from this point. For its command of respectable business both in summer and winter, there is probably no hotel better situated than this.

To a good tenant who would furnish it respectably, it would be let for a term of years at a moderate rent. In the same building there is a large and well finished store, also to be rented. It is one of the best situations for a large variety Store adapted to country trade in this region.

Also to let for the present season, or term of years, a Warehouse and Wharf, near the Miami Hotel. Apply to the subscriber near the premises.
